

Cast announced for the opening production of Stephen Sondheim's 'Marry Me a Little'
at The Stage Door Theatre
directed by Robert McWhir

Shelley Rivers and Markus Sodergren

We are please to announce that Shelley Rivers and Markus Sodergren will be starring in Stephen Sondheim's 'Marry Me a Little', the inaugural production at new West End fringe venue, the Stage Door Theatre.

A charming and bittersweet musical revue featuring songs by Sondheim, the undisputed master of the contemporary Broadway musical, 'Marry Me a Little' will run 28th Feb - 13th April.

Press night: Friday 1 March at 7.30pm.

It will be directed by Robert McWhir, the artistic director of the Stage Door Theatre, who is no stranger to Sondheim musicals having produced and directed both Follies and Into the Woods at his former home, the Landor Theatre, in North Clapham.

Two urban singles share a Saturday night of sweet fantasies and deep yearning while never leaving the confines of their solitary apartments. Together they breathe new theatrical life and meaning into a collection of trunk songs that were mostly culled from the final productions of Anyone Can Whistle, Follies, Company, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, and A Little Night Music. This production will feature the more modern songlist of the 2012 Keen Company production - but be prepared for a couple of surprises!”

Two single strangers, left alone in their studio apartments on a Saturday night, pass their time with sweetly secret, unshared fantasies, never knowing that they’re just a floor away from each other and the end of their lonely dreams.
